NEWS AND GOSSIP OF SCREEN AND STAGE

Varied and Interesting Offerings Are Presented at the Local Theaters.

A New York critic and famous journalist who for a long time represented one of the foremost daily papers in the metropolis says that "Ghosts," the five-part Mutual Masterpiece, based on Ibsen's play, which is shown today on the Orpheum screen, starring Henry B.
Walthall, establishes forever the supremacies of the moving picture over the spoken drama.

"I was amazed," he said, after viewing the Ibsen drama. "I have seen Ibsen played by the Russians and in Norwegian. I have heard 'Ghosts' acted in English, but I can say frankly that I have never seen a performance of an Ibsen play even approaching in power and conclusive dramatic effect this picture version. I could not believe that Ibsen, the conversational dramatist, could be a picture possibility. Any one who has watched an Ibsen play realize how little action there is, how completely the story depends upon the staccato interchange of conversation. A sentence spoken in the first act bears fruit in the last.
Yet it has been done. The picture is far greater than the play."

"The Third Partner," a one-reel drama by Harvey Gates, is occupying the attention of Lyn Reynolds at Universal City. Sydney Ayres and Doris Pawn appear in the leading roles. Reynolds has just completed an unusually good one-reel Ayres feature, "The Morals of Guido Amadi," also from the pen of Gates.

"The Rich Miss Single," an extraordinary funny musical tabloid, is the title of the bill presented by Billy Riddle and his "Sunshine Maids," for the last two days of their engagement in this city. A number of new and novel specialties are introduced by different members of the company.

"Under the Fiddler's Elm," a drama side as the young Jewish musician whose family is wiped out in the persecution and who escapes to America to begin life anew. A number of other players who surround Mr. Whiteside in the original cast, when "The Melting Pot" was a spoken play, appear with him in the picture. The conclusion of the play presents an allegorical epilogue showing an immense "melting pot" into which descend all the races of mankind. This gigantic cauldron melts away into space and these appear as the supreme climax to the picture an immense American flag.

This effect will be further heightened in the Robinson Grand theater today and Saturday by the introduction of "My Country 'Tis of Thee," which the entire audience will be requested to sing. The added picture on this program is "The Road O' Strife."

Bernard Shaw has written a new not they will be added. The men at the table Thursday and pronounced it the best yet. It is centrally located and within a stone's throw of the university gymnasium. A second table for the benefit of those who do not make the training table will probably be conducted so as to permit practice sessions later in the season. If possible, a place will be secured where all of the reserve squad can eat supper after 6:30 o'clock as practice during the month of October will not conclude until that time. Regular boarding places in town as a general rule close up shortly after 6 o'clock and in former years this has been a handicap to several men who wanted to stay out just for the experience.

Daily classes which consist of blackboard talks for the most part were inaugurated today at noon, the meeting lasting for one full hour. This class, if arrangements can be made to get the candidates excused from drill, will be held every day during the season in Mechanical hall from 12 to 1 o'clock. All plays and formations will be taken up daily and at this meeting all phases of the situation will be handled. Every man on the quad will attend these meetings and all three coaches will be present.

Men are now at work getting the field in readiness for the big games to come and the gridiron is being fenced off. Bleachers are being erected around the field and the playing part of the tract is being covered with a thick layer of sawdust. Two carloads have already been distributed and it will take the greater part of another one. Four and five hundred fans are witnessing the workouts.

NEW AND NOVEL

Are Howe's London Shows, Which Will Exhibit Here Soon.

"Something out of the ordinary" is a remark that can properly be made of Howe's London Shows Consolidated, which will exhibit in Clarksburg Friday September 24.

The big circus has a reputation for producing remarkable surprises in its arena until the public has learned that it can attend an exhibition of the great London circus expecting to see something new and different.

There is an unusual number of features with this show this season. It is difficult to pick the best. Some will like the trained wild beasts' exhibition or horse wonders. Others will prefer the Zandrette family, Meradith troupe, the riding Lowndes, the Glasgow royal horses, the Elite troupe, while some will spend most of their time laughing at the host of clowns, listening to the Julius Winslow famous band, enjoying the races, admiring the animals or petting the beautiful Dublin prize horses. No matter which way one looks while under any one of the Howe tents, he is sure to see something out of the ordinary.

It is stated that hundreds of thousands of gallons of choice nut oil are being lost every year in British Honduras because no practical means has been found for its recovery.

gram today. Edgar Jones and Justina Huff are in the leads.

There will be two matinees to-morrow afternoon and three shows in the evening. The latest episode of "The Hazards of Helen" will be shown tomorrow.

"Two is Company," a musical comedy adapted from a Parisian success, was given this week in New Haven, Ct., by a company headed by Georgia Caine. The piece hinges on a case of mistaken identity.

"Rule Sixty-three," a two-act Essay comedy drama is the top piece at the Bijou today and for something neat and "classy" it will pass inspection. Bryant Washburn and a picked company of funny fellows put this one over. "The Romance of Elaine" and two single reel subjects are also shown. The show taken altogether is pleasing.

Saturday a nice program has been arranged by the management. "The King of the Wine," a three-act Edison will top the program, our one-reel subject, will be included.

The film version of "The Melting Pot," Israel Zangwill's poetic sym-bolization of the United States, is to be seen at the Robinson Grand today, with Walker Whiteside in the same part he made famous several years ago, when Mr. Zangwill's work saw the legitimate stage.

The story of "The Melting Pot" begins in Russia with the massacre of Jews in Kishineff. This scene is said to surpass anything ever accomplished in motion picture photography. Fully 10,000 people participating in it. One sees a great gathering of the Jewish people for service and the crowding of the soldiers to slay them. The massacre is intensely gripping in the close adherence to detail and dramatic suspense, then there is the magnificent acting of Walker White-play which the Shuberts are to produce, but he has had great difficulty in sending the manuscript over. Twice it was torpedoed and sunk by submarines, once on the Arabic and once on the Hesperian.

Moving pictures of the Leo M. Frank case are in the New York courts in an effort to prevent the licensing commissioner from interfering with the exhibition of the pictures. The parent, and the widow of Frank are opposed to the picture, being shown.
